●Calculation of National Health Insurance tax

The National Health Insurance tax is calculated by adding together income-based levy and per capita levy which are calculated per household. The breakdown by enrollee is shown on page 4.

② Income based levy

It's calculated by multiplying the previous year's total income of the enrollee by the tax rate.

③ Per capita levy

Regardless of the amount of enrollee's income, it is calculated according to the number of household members.

④ Tax rate

It might be changed depending on a fiscal year.

●Payment method

There are two types of payment method for National Insurance tax: "Regular Collection" and "Special Collection" .

⑤ Special Collection

The tax is deducted from pension and paid six times a year.

⑥ Regular Collection

The tax is paid through either a payment slip or bank transfer.

It is paid in ten installments from June to March of the following year.

⑦ Annual insurance tax amount

● A list of enrollees

National health insurance tax is calculated for each fiscal year (from April to March of the following year. )

⑧ Months in which you are qualified for coverage

If you enroll in the national health insurance system in the middle of the fiscal year, the insurance tax will be prorated on a monthly basis.

※An asterisk(*) is marked for months in which you are qualified for coverage.

⑨ Tax payment amount

To confirm the insurance tax amount for each enrollee, the sum of three items(医,介,支) is a tax payment amount for each individual.
(医,介,支: medical care, nursing care and late elderly aid)

●Tax payment slip

For making a payment using the payment slip, two types of slips enclosed are available. Please use either of them to make the payment.

1. One-time Lump sum payment for the entire year: Use the slip with "全" written in the lower right corner of the payment slip.

You can pay the annual insurance tax amount all at once.

2. Installment payments: Use the slip with a number from "1 to 10" written in the lower right corner, indicating the number of installment payment. The total annual insurance tax amount is divided into installments based on the number on the slip.

Payment method

- Banking facilities, payment counters of the city hall, convenience stores
- Smartphone apps
